

All That Matters Now

John Gabriel Arends

Lord I'm here for a reason
I'm here to wait on You
I push away the distractions
I push the world from view

I turn my mind to heaven
My eyes to Jesus' face
I think upon His Kingdom
And this world fades away

All that matters now is You
All that I desire is You
All that matters now is You
All that I desire is You

All this world will fade away, rust away and break someday
But You, oh Lord, will never change
Lord You remain, You stay the same!
